Guide price £700,000

An unmistakably 'Berg'-style and extremely sought-after semi-detached family home in need of full modernisation throughout, located on a quiet residential road in leafy Ashted Village.

The current layout consists of a characterful storm porch with an original Oak front door, a good-sized entrance hallway with a feature window, original wood panelling, and under-stairs storage. There is a well-proportioned front reception room with high ceilings and a bay window, a fitted kitchen with side access, and a full-width second reception room featuring a stunning authentic fireplace with stained-glass windows to the side and French doors to the garden.

Upstairs, there are three good-sized bedrooms, two of which have suffered some historical damage. The first floor is completed by a bathroom and a separate WC. Typical of this style of home, there is a deep eaves cupboard, which many of the neighbours have converted into a further bedroom and/or second bathroom. In fact, this home lends itself to several extension possibilities (STPP), and it would be recommended to seek advice from a local architect to fully understand the vast potential of this family home.

To the rear, there is a long and well-established garden, mainly laid to lawn with a selection of pine and fruit trees, a patio, side access to the front of the dwelling, and rear access to the garage. To the front, there is off-street parking.

Culverhay is a superb location, minutes away from both the mainline station, the beautiful Ashted Common, and the local parade of shops. Many of the local schools are within walking distance, as well as the doctors, the library, sports clubs, cafes, and pubs. Depending on how long your legs are, the main village is approximately a 20-minute walk away, where you will find a splendid selection of independent traders covering all your day-to-day needs and wants. Failing that, we also have an M&S Foodhall, a Co-op, and a Tesco Express.
